

Lease Excess Wear Protection

Protect yourself from lease-end surprises

Why excess wear coverage?

Over the term of your lease, your Audi will experience normal wear as a result of everyday use. While some normal wear is expected, excess wear may also occur and can result in additional charges at the end of your lease term.

What is excess wear?

Your lease agreement holds you responsible for any excess wear to your vehicle's interior or exterior. Common examples of excess wear:

Dents larger than 2 inches

Scratched or chipped paint

Upholstery holes, tears, or burns

Tires with cut or plugged sidewalls

Chipped, cracked, or pitted glass

Heavily-gouged steel or alloy wheels

Missing parts or equipment

What it includes

Lease Excess Wear Protection from Audi Financial Services is an optional waiver that covers some or all of qualifying excess wear charges at lease-end, including:

- ▶ Up to a maximum of $10,000 in eligible wear charges
- ▶ Eligible single damage incidents with a cost of repair less than $1,000
- ▶ Up to maximum of $100 for each missing part or equipment
- ▶ Zero deductible
- ▶ Coverage is valid from the date of lease inception and may extend up to 180 days after the original scheduled termination date

Qualifying vehicles have:

- ▶ A maximum MSRP of $200,000
- ▶ A lease term between 12 - 60 months
- ▶ Less than 10,000 odometer miles at lease inception

This plan is only available at the lease inception and does not cover the following:

- ▶ Excess mileage charges
- ▶ Any single event causing damage of $1,000 or more.
- ▶ Fees and other obligations under the lease agreement
- ▶ Any remaining balance for missing equipment and parts in excess of $100 per missing part or equipment

Additional Information

Auto insurance pays for certain types of damage to your vehicle. However, it does not pay for excess wear on your leased vehicle. Used, previously titled vehicles or vehicles used for business purposes not eligible for coverage.

The optional Audi Financial Services Lease Excess Wear Protection provides peace of mind with excess wear coverage up to $10,000. The purchase of the plan is optional, cancelable within 60 days, and is not required to lease or obtain financing.
