RE: United We Stand

The rest of that powerful statement is, divided we fall.

Everyone now knows, in America and throughout the world, that the USA is a divided country. No business, no sports team, no army, no family can function effectively when division is present and often encouraged as a way of life.

The greatest country in the world, America must now find a way to right the ship and unite not divide. For the last eight years, the Obama administration was blamed for causing division. In January, President Donald Trump and his administration assumed the blame of being the dividers.

The facts are that neither President played any part with this division. President Obama tried to fix it and today President Trump is willing to try and fix it. Trying to fix problems that were on the books for 30 years like immigration, healthcare, inner cities, law and order, stronger military, jobs, soaring debt, education, national security, etc. is the challenge.

If you agree that there is much work to be done for the good of we the American people, then it's time to raise your hand and your voice and drown out those who use division to stop or slow progress, because they benefit from division.

To correct 30 year old neglected problems that once were smaller, "We the People" must demand a two-party system that works together. Debate is welcomed, distraction and obstruction is not. Solutions are what "We the People" now demand.

Debated and agreed upon solutions by both parties must never be undermined by petty politics or politicians.

One day soon our elected politicians, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, will come to realize that "We the People" don't really care about party affiliation or who fixes our current problems, because we now know we must defeat division.

United We Stand, Divided We Fall is just as factual today as it was in July of 1768.

The first attributed use in modern times is accredited to Founding Father John Dickinson in his pre-Revolutionary War song "The Liberty Song" first published in the Boston Gazette in July 1768. In the song Dickinson wrote, "Then join hand in hand, brave Americans all! By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall!"

P.S. In a united America everyone should be covered by the same affordable healthcare plan, including all of our government workers and politicians. When that happens it will truly be an amazing plan. We're in your neighborhood.
