RE: Memorial Day Paid Tribute

It was a much deserved day of giving thanks to the brave men and women of our military who, over two world wars and many conflicts, have proven to be willing to fight and die for their country during times of war.

During war time, our enemies found out that our civilian population is also unbeatable.

During World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt asked our civilian industry leaders to go to work and build the arsenal of democracy.

After Pearl Harbor, former auto plants like Ford's River Rouge and the newly built Willow Run no longer built cars. In fact, Henry Ford's son Edsel promised he would build a bomber a day at Willow Run.

William Knudson quit his job of running General Motors to take over and manage the arms race for President Roosevelt (he was paid $1.00 a year).

Henry Kaiser stopped building cars to instead build war material and ships. Chrysler built tanks and jeeps, Studebaker and Packard ammunitions and weapons and so on.

By 1942, Detroit was no longer known as the Motor City, it was now one of the key industrial manufacturers in the world.

Presidents Roosevelt's arsenal of democracy placed brave men and women on assembly lines 24 hours a day and together with our brave military were victorious and destroyed our enemy.

Although the famous Willow Run Ford Bomber plant never built cars after the war the 100-year-old River Rouge plant, modernized and state of the art, still builds the popular F-150 trucks and sends them to the Bommarito Ford Superstore, right here in Hazelwood, where you can drive one home, nicely equipped for under $23,000.
