2012 Dodge Avenger – What's New

Avenger has bulked up on its performance and fun factor in a zero changing way. Competitors beware. With a 3.6L V6 engine, Avenger offers an impressive 283 hp and enviable V6 fuel economy. Refined interior and sporty exterior will make people crane their necks when it passes by. Its aggressive stance looks like it was built to race and win. A lower fascia profile, premium tires and an enhanced suspension system mean that this baby hugs the road better than ever. When Avenger drivers stop at a red light, the knowledge of knowing they can go from zero to 60 in just over six seconds may prompt an unconscious smile and inspire them to rev the engine just a little. Knowing they may get up to 44 mpg on the highway will have them smiling all the way to the bank.
