

Beehive: The 60's Musical is a joyful, high-energy celebration of the women whose voices defined a generation. From the girl-group harmonies of the early '60s to the soulful sounds that closed out the decade, this electrifying musical revue brings the era to life with unforgettable hits and the stories behind the music. Featuring songs made famous by legendary artists like Aretha Franklin, Tina Turner, Janis Joplin, and many more, Beehive captures the spirit, style, and girl power that changed music forever.

This brand-new staging at Desert TheatreWorks reimagines the show with a fresh perspective. Director Lance Phillips has restaged the production from DTW's sold-out 2019 run, setting it in a vibrant 1960s hair salon where music, memories, and big personalities come together. With a powerhouse cast and a little extra DTW flair, Beehive promises a fun, feel-good trip through one of the most exciting decades in music history.

4/2/26 - Michele Langley planned another fun event. We had dinner at Longhorn (where we also celebrated Barb Gildner's bday) then saw Beehive, the 60's Musical, at TheatreWorks in Indio. Unfortunately, Michele's phone broke so no personal pictures of Beehive, but it was a lot of fun!!
