2019 CX-5 IMPRESSES ON PERFORMANCE AND DESIGN

There are some vehicles that look nice, even great, but they do not fair well in performance.

There are others that drive great, but then the design of the car looks like backside of an ugly duckling.

Then there are the best vehicles that do both just right.

The redesigned 2019 Mazda CX-5 is one of those vehicles.

APPEARANCES

Let's start with the look of the car. The hood extends over the grille gives the vehicle a sharp design. It's sleek and stylish with spectacular sidelines.

The trunk size is abundant, and the seats are roomy in the front. The rear is comfortable with five passengers. The bright red paint, Mazda's signature look, is named Soul Red Crystal Metallic.

The leather seats are made from Nappa leather and is plush and comfy especially on long rides. All the controls are easily placed within driver access. The overall interior design in the best

MAZDA CX-5 DIESEL WILL BE PREMIUM, ARRIVES THIS MONTH

Evan Williams

The only small diesel crossover on the market.

If you're looking for a diesel-powered vehicle these days, the options are slim. But just days after two of the last-standing models were taken off the list, Mazda has priced a diesel crossover of its own. The CX-5 Skyactiv-D will arrive at dealers in August.

The new diesel engine is a 2.2L four-cylinder. It comes with a sequential twin-turbo setup. Mazda says that this means a more linear response from low to high

THE DRIVE

Let's be honest – the CX-5 is a fun car to drive. Most SUVs cannot claim this aspect. They may drive great, but few are fun to drive. The CX-5 stands out!

This exciting driving experience is what separates Mazda SUVs from the competition. The 2019 Mazda CX-5 comes with some dominant options within the engine.

The Signature trim line features a turbo 2.5-liter four-cylinder engine with a 6-speed transmission. Its output is 227 horsepower and 310-lb.-ft. of torque.

The base model comes with a non-turbo engine at 187 hp and 186-lb.-ft.

Front-wheel drive comes standard by upgrading to AWD is better. The CX-5 features independent front and rear suspension, front and rear stabilizer bars, and G-Vectoring Control Plus. It drives magnificently especially in the Sports model.

Driving on winding roads, dirt roads or just going to the store, the CX-5 is responsive and effective more than its competitors. It is quite nimble for its size. This car proves that if you love driving, you can buy this SUV.

SAFETY AND TECHNOLOGY

Both tech and safety are areas where Mazda continues to shine.

Government safety ratings are near perfect on the 2019 CX-5, good news for prospective buyers with a keen eye on safety.

The CX-5 features a full array of airbags, radar cruise control, keyless entry, push-button start, Android Auto and Apple CarPlay compatibility, rpm, and that it increases torque across the rev band...

With 168 hp and a decidedly healthy 290 lb.-ft. of torque. More impressively, that peak torque shows up at just 2,000 rpm.

Adding a diesel engine choice to the CX-5 isn't a trivial matter these days, so Mazda's positioning it as a premium product, hoping for buyers who want the experience and not just fuel economy.

To help showcase its premiumness, Mazda is offering the Skyactiv-D only in Signature trim. That's the top spec for the CX-5, which makes this one very well equipped. The CX-5 has one of the nicest interiors in the class, with cocoa Nappa leather seats, Abachi real wood trim, satin chrome accents, and a head-up display and ventilated front seats.

"Our journey towards Mazda Premium means offering our customers the premium choices they expect, and the 2019 CX-5 offers cutting edge powertrain options, including a fuel-efficient gasoline engine with cylinder deactivation, a powerful turbo gasoline engine, and now the smooth and refined power delivery of a quiet and clean diesel engine," said Mazda Canada CEO David Klan.

- 4 skin-on, bone-in chicken breasts (about 3 lb.)
- Kosher salt, ground pepper
- 2 lemons
- 4 garlic cloves, crushed
- 3 large sprigs thyme
- 1 cup torn pitted Castelvetrano olives

Prep:

*Lightly oil grate. Pat chicken breasts dry; season generously all over with salt and pepper. Place on a rimmed baking sheet; let sit at room temperature at least 30 minutes and up to 1 hour.

*Thinly slice 1 lemon crosswise into rounds; pluck out seeds. Place half of lemon slices in a small bowl. Add garlic and 1 Tbsp. oil and toss to coat; season with salt and pepper. Set remaining lemon slices aside for serving. Slice remaining lemon in half and squeeze juice into another small bowl (you should have about ¼ cup). Set aside.

*Pat chicken dry again and rub with 2 Tbsp. oil. Grill oiled lemon slices over hot side of grill, turning once, until charred in spots, about 3 minutes. Transfer to a plate. Grill chicken on cooler side of grill, skin side down, until skin is browned and starting to crisp, 15–20 minutes. Turn chicken over, cover, and continue to grill until an instant-read thermometer inserted into the thickest part of breasts registers 160°, 8–10 minutes longer. Transfer to a cutting board and let rest 10–15 minutes.

*Pull chicken meat from bones and slice ½" thick. Place on a rimmed platter, shingling slices. Scatter thyme sprigs, olives, grilled lemon slices, and reserved fresh lemon slices over.
