All-New 2020 Mazda CX-30:

Style, Luxury, and Roominess in a Small Package

Having made its North American debut in November at the 2019 LA Auto

Show, the 2020 Mazda CX-30 estimated arrival is set for January 2020. It's an interesting model because it will fit in between the subcompact CX-3 & the compact CX-5.

The CX-30 is based on the same platform as the Mazda3 compact car, which did well in Consumer Report's tests. The Mazda3 stands out with a quiet, more upscale interior than its competitors and a comfortable ride.

The CX-30 with ample tech and safety offerings, and a five-seat crossover, looks to attract younger buyers seeking a more premium feel without a premium price.

Consumer Reports Take: "This is an interesting vehicle. It's aggressively priced and brings a stylish look and premium feel that isn't found in similar models from competitors. Even though Mazda offers an all-wheel-drive version of its compact car, the Mazda3, buyers are snapping up more SUVs than sedans and hatchbacks. This Mazda3-based SUV blends the look of a coupe with a hatchback in a package with more ground clearance than the compact car"

Outside: The CX-30's sleek, bold styling is meant to evoke creativity. A slightly slicked-back Mazda CX-5 with dark lower-body panels and a sloping roofline.

The CX-30 has Mazda's signature wide, gaping front grille and a long hood. The CX-30's aerodynamic profile is very coupe like, and it stands out when compared with the more traditionally proportioned competitors.

Inside: The interior is very similar to the Mazda3. The cabin has rich, generously padded surfaces and high-quality trim, buttons, and knobs throughout. The cabin finish stands out in the compact car class. Mazda says that it worked to minimize road and wind noise on the CX-30. It is quiet!

The CX-30's infotainment system includes a high-mounted 8.8-inch center screen with a rotary controller positioned between the front seats. Android Auto and Apple CarPlay compatibility come on all versions except the base CX-30. The rear footwells are slightly slanted to better accommodate rear-seat passengers.

Powertrain: The CX-30 uses a 186-hp, 2.5-liter four-cylinder engine that's paired with a six-speed automatic transmission. Both front- and all-wheel drive are available.

Safety and Driver Assist: The standard Mazda i-Activsense safety system includes forward collision warning, automatic emergency braking, lane departure warning, lane keeping assist, and a driver monitoring system. Blind spot warning is only on the top three trim levels.

Prep: 10 m
Cook: 55 m
Servings: 16

Ingredients

- 2 c. all-purpose flour
- 1/2 c. sugar
- 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/2 c. cold butter or margarine
- 1 c. part-skim ricotta cheese
- 1 c. dried tart cherries or other dried fruit
- 1 c. pecans
- 1 tsp. vanilla extract
- 1/2 tsp. grated fresh lemon peel
- 2 large eggs
- Confectioners' sugar (optional)

Directions

- 1) Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Grease large cookie sheet. In large bowl, stir together flour, sugar, baking powder, and 1/4 teaspoon salt. With pastry blender or using two knives scissors-fashion, cut in butter until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Stir in ricotta, dried cherries, pecans, vanilla, lemon peel, and eggs until well combined.
- 2) Turn dough onto lightly floured surface. With floured hands, gently knead dough two or three times to blend. With floured rolling pin, roll dough into 10" by 8" oval. Fold oval lengthwise, bringing top half over so that bottom of dough extends by about 1 inch.
- 3) Place stollen on prepared cookie sheet. Bake 55 to 60 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Transfer stollen to wire rack; cool completely. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar to coat just before serving if you like.

Service Department is aware of these recalls and you will receive notification by mail or email when the time comes.
