Swope Family of Dealerships to Carry on Swope Automotive Legacy After Sale of Sam Swope Dealerships in Louisville

ELIZABETHTOWN, KY. - It was announced today that the Sam Swope Auto Group of Louisville has sold its stores in the Louisville market to Automotive Management Services Inc. (AMSI), headquartered in West Palm Beach, Florida. This does not include any of the Swope Family of Dealerships stores in Elizabethtown and Radcliff. Though the Sam Swope Auto Group and the Swope Family of Dealerships have been affiliated by family, they are entirely separate groups with separate ownership and leadership.

For over 63 years, these two dealership groups have built a reputation for exceptional customer experience and value, and have amassed legions of loyal customers to the Swope brand. In fact, the origins of all Swope dealerships in Kentucky are rooted in the stores in Elizabethtown. Swope Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram was started in 1952 and was the very first Swope store. "The roots and the trunk of the tree are still very much intact; and in fact , we are growing", says Carl Swope, President and CEO of the Swope Family of Dealerships. " A few of the branches have been trimmed in the Louisville market, but the Swope's intend to remain in the automobile business for generations to come."

Pertinent information pertaining to the change in ownership:
