In general, this maintenance schedule is based upon having your Subaru serviced every 7,500 miles or 7.5 months. Conventional oil changes are recommended every 3,750 miles or 3 months due to our area's climate. Synthetic oil changes are recommended every 7,500 miles or 7.5 months. Although the various services detailed show mileage intervals only, the time element is important as well and should be a consideration as you schedule your preventive maintenance visits. As always, we recommend checking fluids between services.
