SERVICE NOTE

With proper care, your automobile transmission should function for 100,000 miles. In fact, most manufacturers don't recommend servicing them until then. However, if any one of the following severe conditions exist, it should be serviced every 15,000 to 25,000 miles

1. Heavy duty traffic in hot weather (90° F)
2. Frequent trailer pulling
3. Stop and go driving
4. In hilly or mountainous areas
